"Swimming lessons make kids so much smarter"

Researchers from the Griffith University surveyed over 7,000 parents of children under 5 in Australia, New Zealand and USA.

Their findings showed children who participate in early years swimming lessons generally achieved a range of skills earlier than the non-swimming population and many of those skills are those that help young children transition into formal learning contexts such as pre-school and school. The early swimming children scored significantly better in visual motor skills, mathematically related tests, oral expression as well as areas of literacy and numeracy.

NOW YOU KNOW!

There are lots more benefits from swimming lessons than just learning to swim and it never stops.

Learn to Swim

Gullivers Little People. The story so far....

Back in story book time Gulliver was a hero to all the little people in the land of Lilliput. In the land of Gold Coast Gulliver is a swimming teacher, a coach and hero to the many thousands of parents who since 1975 have brought their little people to Gullivers to learn to swim. At Gullivers though they did not just learn to swim but learned to swim better and further at a much younger age than just about anywhere else in the world...or so the story goes.

Images of Gullivers little people performing incredible feats of swimming at a very young age have often been featured on TV, both in Australia and overseas, and splashed across the pages of local newspapers, national magazines and social media.

“ The swim program and coaches are fantastic at providing safe and effective lessons to ensure water confidence and safety. My daughter swam 800metres at just 25months. ”
 Libby Wood

GULLIVERS IS MORE THAN JUST A SWIM CENTRE

Over the past 21 years the family owned Gullivers Coomera has evolved into far more than just a swim centre extraordinaire. It has been a real hub for community activity. The culmination of a lifelong dream, Gullivers Coomera has two heated pools, coffee shop and a double story multi-activity facility catering for gymnastic and the hugely popular sports active School Age Care service that was the pilot for the Federal Government's nationwide Active After School Program.

Our latest innovation is the multi skills programme for little people from two to five years not only teaching sports skills but improving mobility, co-ordination and motor development.

GULLIVERS MISSION

“To provide kids with a caring, safe, happy environment where they will learn skills for life”

Terry Gulliver started teaching swimming at the age of just 14 and 63 years later is still just as passionately involved, still personally overseeing the day to day lessons for today's generation of “Gullivers Little People”
